

Hi!

I am Reggie Whitley, the Editor-in-Chief for Open Vault Daily: an upcoming multi-platform lifestyle and empowerment brand.

My awesome team and I are looking for excited content writers who will submit articles to be published on our platform. Desiring content writers need not have any published writing experiences. Writing opportunities are open for everyone.

Below are 5 general topics in which we aim to keep our content within. Of course, within those 5 general topics are countless various discussions that can be written about.

As you help us grow, we want to help you grow and be exposed to audiences across the world. As a featured writer, your name, phone, and work will be featured on all of our platforms. Also, your website, brand, and more will be featured and advertised upon your permissions.

What you will need:

- The completed form (link on last page)
- A headshot
- A personal or professional bio

Upon receiving your completed form, you will be contacted via email to reply with your headshot and personal/professional bio. Please do not submit your headshot or bio until you have received that email. After submitting your form, if you haven't gotten it by the end of the 7th business days (M-F), please check your spam and/or promotions folders.

As ever,

Reggie Whitley

Editor-in-Chief
